

Threshold knowledge	Threshold skill
WALT: understand the family in its social context & understand what family means to you. To know that love cannot be easily separated from 'good' and 'bad' experiences To know God accompanies in times of joy and sorrow Knowing personal safety	Listening and applying discussion in their own words and an emerging use of technical language: : A growth in being able to support their views with good description and evidence, knowing the 4 levels of happiness: Knowledge of healthy and unhealthy relationships and where to seek help in school – child protection and safeguarding
To have examined the roles and responsibilities of family members and the importance of family life To appreciate that for believers, God accompanies them in times of joy and sorrow To understand that love cannot be easily separated from 'good' and 'bad' experiences Appreciating the importance of personal safety	Making connections between the levels of happiness and using sources to relate to these. Understanding needs vs wants. Valuing the place of forgiveness and the constant need to build relationships in life and at home. Vivid perception of 4 levels of happiness in personal letter. Discuss with maturity ways in which young people (their age and younger) can try to prevent themselves and others from going missing/being abducted etc.
To know and understand differing roles and relationships within the family and how families themselves may differ To express insight into the reasons why forgiveness is an important aspect of all Christian relationships. To explain that love cannot be easily separated from 'good' and 'bad' experiences	Evaluative answer to: Explain the importance of forgiveness and the constant need to build relationships in life and at home. Vivid perception of 4 levels of happiness in personal letter.
To know and understand differing roles and relationships within the family and how families themselves may differ To articulate the role forgiveness plays in our own lives. Examine the importance of friendships and relationships in terms of promises and agreements To examine how love forms 'good' and 'bad' experiences and that God accompanies through times of joy and sorrow	Evaluative answer to: compare different aspects of family life: friendships, relationship, joy, sorrow, personal loss. Using examples in their writing: St Maximilian Kolbe/Nelson Mandela/finding of the child Jesus in the temple rosary.
Blue sky knowledge	Blue sky skill